

Hearts & Arts for Youth:

FREE!

Sunday Art Adventures to Benefit the Local Community

Youth of all ages through high school are invited to join local artist Bruce Orr for hands-on art projects during the Sunday morning faith development classes listed below at UUCGL!

In this inspiring continuation of our program, youth explore identity, voice, and values through creative expression—making art that stands up for what matters, honors our earth and each other, shares UU values with the wider community, and celebrates the people we love.

No experience necessary—just bring your creativity! Feel free to bring friends and spread the word to any local youth. All materials provided.

Bruce is an art teacher, art therapist, muralist, illustrator, puppeteer, and all-around arts advocate. He is the founder of Inkwell Arts in Peabody.

Upcoming Sessions (10-11am in the Skylight Room):

February 22 – Stand Up Puppets & Paper Pop-Ups: What Do You Stand For?

March 1 – Printmaking: Cards for My Brother's Table

March 15 – Eco-Mosaic Portraits: 3D Self-Portraits from Reclaimed Materials

April 12 – Zine-Making: Creating a Handmade Book of UU Values for Our Community

May 3 – Memory Cards: Designing a Card Game Where Everyone's Voice Matters

May 10 – Mother's Day Accordion Books: Surprise Messages of Love
